

The Lego Christian A Study In Colossians

Most people are familiar with the little colored bricks that snap together. Kids have hours of fun building houses and countless other objects. When you buy a Lego set there is a picture on the front of the box. The promise is that if you put all the bricks together in a certain order you will have created the structure that is pictured on the box. If you leave several pieces out then what you are building may not be able to be completed or will look different from what is pictured on the box.

You and I are a work in progress like those Lego sets. We are trying to build our lives to be Christ like. Colossians gives us several clues to what essential spiritual building bricks we need to use in the construction of our daily walk with God.
